Fight For West Point Of the Air

Recommendation By Defense Sec'y Brought Requests From Many Places

By Morris Cleavenger
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—(AP)—A "West Point of the Air" is still just a proposal, but the cities and towns and states are grabbing for it.

It looks like a juicy prize and it looks like a good fight. Some officials are beginning to fear, indeed, that the rivalry will become so hot it will kill off the whole scheme.

A number of people have had the idea of an air force academy comparable to those maintained to train army and navy officers. Then recently, Defense Secretary Forrestal recommended such an academy to Congress.

That touched off civic pride. Bills to create an academy are pouring into the armed services committee of the House and Senate. And, for the most part, they are very specific about where the academy should be located.

Texas Wants It. Deep in the heart of Texas they want that academy, and deep in the sunshine of southern California the longing is equally intense.

Hope is springing as though it were jet-propelled in other sections.

Just in the number of proposals that have been submitted, the Sunflower state of Kansas is leading the race so far. A check today showed that bills have been introduced to establish the academy in Kansas at Wichita, Hutchinson, Salina and St. Lawrence. Field near Winfield and Arkansas City.

For Oklahoma, the proposed sites are Enid and near Altus and Frederick.

Sentiment For Sedalia

Missouri sentiment seems to center so far around Sedalia. Bills to establish the academy there have been submitted by Senator Kem (R-Mo.) and Rep. Christopher (D-Mo.).

Texas claims that the academy should be located at Randolph Field, near San Antonio.

The California argument doesn't specify any particular place.

Arizona wants the academy at Davis Monthan field near Tucson. There will be other recommendations. One is expected to be from Clovis, N. M. The shooting may just have started.

As the bills come in, sectional pressure grows.

"We sure are getting a lot of mail from Sedalia, Missouri, right now," said one committee employee.

Congressmen Have The Answer

There is the possibility that Congress may pass a bill to establish an academy and leave the site up to the air force.

And what does the air force say?

The air force says cannily it has looked over a number of locations for the academy — if it is authorized — but hasn't decided upon anything so far.

A lot of congressmen have the answer to that one.

Thought For Today

Above the clouds I lift my wing to hear the bells of Heaven ring; some of their music, though my flights be wild, to earth I bring. Then let me soar and sing!—E. C. Stedman.

Carcass of Steer Left in Thompson Field

Cattle rustlers today visited E. W. Thompson for the second time in two months, the first time taking a number of cattle, this time butchering one and carrying off part of the meat, leaving the carcass as shown above.—(Padgett Photo)

C. J. McEniry Dies Suddenly In Kansas City

Owner Smoke House Had Gone There Monday on Business

Charles Jerome McEniry, aged 60, 412 Dal Whi-Mo court, died suddenly about 6:30 o'clock this morning while a guest at the Phillips hotel, Kansas City. According to information from Kansas City from the Office of the Coroner of Jackson county, and a General hospital intern, death was of natural causes; probably a heart attack.

Mr. McEniry had gone to Kansas City Monday on a business trip.

This morning a maid walking along the hall heard groans in Mr. McEniry's room and notified the desk. By the time the management reached the room and entered, Mr. McEniry had died.

For many years Mr. McEniry has owned and operated the Smoke House, first at 225 South Ohio avenue and later at the present address, 314 South Ohio avenue. He recently turned over the operation of the business to his two sons, Charles Burns and Joseph McEniry.

Coached Champion

Many years ago Mr. McEniry became interested in Johnny Layton and coached him into the World's Three-Cushion Billiard championship, which title Layton held thirteen times. Mr. McEniry was a lover of the game and encouraged many young men to follow the sport, pointing with pride to the championship which he always said was brought to Sedalia through Johnny Layton.

For a short time Mr. McEniry and Mr. Layton owned and operated a recreational center in St. Louis, where billiards were featured, and where many exhibitions were held by Layton. In Sedalia he brought to his home town many champions of the three-cushion game and top-notch players who gave exhibitions.

Born In Iowa

McEniry was born at Melrose, Iowa, September 30, 1888, the son of the late Charles and Elizabeth McEniry. When he was a young boy his parents and family moved to Sedalia to make their home. His father was a well known farmer and had a large farm north-east of Sedalia.

He attended Sacred Heart school in Sedalia and later Christian Brothers college in St. Louis and St. Joseph's college in Collegeville, Indiana.

He was married to Miss Helen McGinley of Sedalia May 27, 1913 who survives, as do four children, Charles Burns McEniry, 500 West Fourth street, Robert McEniry of St. Louis, Mrs. Jane Hogan, wife of Maurice Hogan of 909 West Sixth street, and Joseph McEniry of the family home. Also survive are six grandchildren, Margaret Ellen, Mary Patricia, Michael Joseph, Charles Robert, and Elizabeth Ann, children of Mr. and Mrs. Hogan, and Charles Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns McEniry.

Three sisters and one brother survive. Mrs. Lucille Cotterman, 400 South Quincy avenue, Mrs. Joseph W. Reid, 410 Dal-Whi-Mo court, Miss Mary McEniry, of St. Louis, and Matthew McEniry, of Philadelphia, Pa. A brother, Will McEniry, died in Houston, Texas, several years ago. His mother and father preceded him in death several years.

The body was taken to the Peter Lappina funeral home in Kansas City, and will be brought to the McLaughlin chapel in Sedalia, Thursday.

Funeral arrangements await the return of the body here.

Not Such a Good Subject

MANILA, March 16.—(AP)—Felipe Balangit won an oratorical contest at Mindanao college. Davao police promptly arrested him on a sedition charge.

The student body threatened demonstrations, protesting the police action as curbing freedom of speech. Davao's mayor bowed, dropped the sedition charge.

Title of Balangit's speech: "Wanted, a Peaceful Revolution."

Tallulah Sues For a Million

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Tallulah Bankhead, inked by the use of the name, "Tallulah" in a radio jingle advertising soap, is suing for $1,000,000, damages.

The fiery actress also is asking an injunction against Proctor & Gamble company, makers of the soap; the National Broadcasting Company, and an advertising agency.

Miss Bankhead, currently appearing on Broadway in "Private Lives," commented last night: "I've yet to endorse a floor wax, a flea powder or a wart remover, a cigarette or a hookah-pipe. I'll unjingle both Mr. Proctor and Mr. Gamble, their aides, their allies and their echoes."

Her attorney, Donald R. Seawell, said the singing radio commercial, which refers to a tube of shampoo as "Tallulah," uses the actress' name in an "offensive and humiliating" manner.

Walter Berry, attorney who said he will represent the defendants, said there was "no intention of the agency or sponsor to capitalize on any living person's name."

Father, Aged 13, Hunts a Job

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 16.—(AP)—Authorities puzzled today what to do about a husky 13-year-old father who under Michigan law should rejoin his playmates as a seventh grade school pupil.

While they debated, handsome Carl Harvey Blake, Jr., said his first duty as a family man was to find a job.

Flustered school officials in Van Buren county admitted they didn't know what action to take.

As husband of 16-year-old Winifred Blake and father of a five-pound 10-ounce son, Carl might be "a little odd" for the rest of the pupils, they said.

On the other hand, a Michigan law requires youths to attend school until they are 16 or pass the eighth grade.

Carl and Winifred were married last fall by Probate Judge Merle H. Young, now retired, in Van Buren county under a special probate court law making it possible to waive ages.

Winifred's father, Leo Singleton, was working at the time for the senior Blake at Blake's junkyard in nearby Lawton.

Now Carl wants a job, but allows one is "pretty hard to find."

Church Convention In Moberly

MOBERLY, Mo., March 16.—(AP)—More than 400 delegates of the state are represented by about 900 delegates to the 84th annual convention of the Missouri Council of Churches which opened here yesterday.

Dr. Paul Griswold Macy, Chicago, director of the midwest region world council of churches, told the opening meeting that churches should seek the strong unity that existed among the early Christians.

The convention will conclude tomorrow with speeches by Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati lawyer, at afternoon and night sessions.

How Missourians and Kansans Voted on Rent

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Here is the way Kansas and Missouri representatives voted yesterday on the rent control bill passed by the house and sent to the senate:

Kansas (all Republicans)

Against—Cole, Hope, Meyer, Rees, Scrivener, Smith.

Missouri:

Democrats For—Bolling, Cannon, Carnahan, Christopher, Irving, Jones, Karst, Karsten, Magee, Moulder, Sullivan, Welch.

Republican against—Short.

Mother and Sister Too

LONDON, March 16.—(AP)—A baby girl became her mother's sister in the eyes of the law today. Chancery court authorized a couple's adoption of an illegitimate child born recently to their daughter. Proceedings were conducted in private and no names were disclosed.

Carcass of an 800-Pound Steer Found

Butchered on Farm Of E. W. Thompson South of Sedalia

Cattle rustling has turned to butchering in Pettis county, with the finding of an 800-pound carcass of a white face steer belonging to E. W. Thompson, about a mile and a half southwest of Sedalia, early today. Last January Mr. Thompson lost nine head of cattle to cattle rustlers, who took them from a herd on his farm west of Sedalia on the Sixteenth street road.

Early this morning Mr. Thompson received a call from an employee at the Rice Hatchery that he had noticed a carcass lying on the south edge of the farm where he has a large herd grazing. Upon investigating Mr. Thompson found the carcass of the steer lying in a small ditch or brand with the hind quarters missing.

Sheriff John Taylor and State Troopers Pete Stohr and Wayne Allman went to the scene to start an investigation. The steer apparently had been killed just north of the ditch, either being shot or choked down. After the hind quarters had been removed the remainder of the carcass was rolled into the branch, in an endeavor to hide it from anyone passing along the road, but part of it was high enough to be noticed when daybreak came.

No Novices

The person or persons who butchered the steer were not novices, inasmuch as the hind quarters had been cut away like an expert. The hind on the rear was also removed when the quarters were cut away, leaving the upper part of the hide on the carcass.

After cutting away the quarters they were dragged across the field about 50 yards to the fence and pulled through it and put in some type of truck.

First In Several Years

This is the first report of cattle being butchered in Pettis county by thieves in several years. However, it was reported several pigs were stolen from a farm farther south near Green Ridge recently after they had been killed.

Mr. Thompson reported the theft of nine steers last January and an investigation is still in progress by Sheriff Taylor and the State Highway Patrol. Several clues have been received by the law enforcing agencies but as yet no arrests have been made.

The steer butchered this morning was valued at more than $225.

St. Patrick's Day Banquet

The Irish and their friends will celebrate St. Patrick's Day with their annual St. Patrick's banquet and dance at St. Patrick's school hall, Fourth and Washington streets, March 17, at 6:00 o'clock. Visiting clergy from the surrounding towns and the Mayor will be special guests. Jake Beck, president of the Holy Name Society, will act as toastmaster. Rev. John DeAngelis, of Tipton, will be a guest speaker.

The program is as follows:

March

Truman Keeps Tight-Lipped Silence in Face of Setbacks

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

KEY WEST, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—President Truman maintained a tight lipped silence today in the face of continuous setbacks from the 81st Congress.

The man who travelled 31,500 miles last year to denounce the 80th Congress as the "second worst" in history because of its opposition to his proposals withheld a final decision on whether to stomp the country to win a better showing from its Democratic-controlled successor.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said he had nothing to add, however, to Mr. Truman's Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner threat to stomp the country in behalf of his fair deal program.

No Official Discussion

He said there has been no official discussion of the trip here. "Is it safe to say the president is not happy about the action on the filibuster, the local option rent control bill and the tabling of the Wallgren nomination?" Ross was asked.

"You may draw your own conclusions," he replied.

The tabling by the Senate Armed Services committee of the confirmation necessary for former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren as chairman of the National Security Resources board was a heavy blow to Mr. Truman, who regards the ex-chief executive of Washington state as one of his best friends.

Piled Up Score

This action yesterday piled up the score Mr. Truman would like to settle with the current Congress, dominated by Democrats, but many of them southerners who launched a filibuster to prevent passage of the president's civil rights measures.

Mr. Truman also watched from afar as his congressional lieutenants fought a bitter battle with opponents of his labor, rent control and other proposals.

Chief Justice Vinson concluded today what Ross described as a "purely social visit" with Mr. Truman and flew back to Washington in the "Independence," the White House DC-6.

Important Events In World News

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) launched a move today to chop the "local option" provision out of the House-passed rent control bill.

Sparkman is chairman of a Senate Banking subcommittee which is studying legislation to extend rent curbs beyond March 31, expiration date of the present law. He called a behind-closed-doors meeting of that group to complete work on its own bill at 1 p. m. (CST).

The measure passed by the House yesterday would let state and local officials re-evaluate controls whenever they please. The bill would extend rent controls for 15 months after March 31.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—The State Department announced today that 23 delegates from Russia and Soviet bloc countries will be permitted to attend a "World Peace" conference in New York starting March 25.

Five Hungarians who asked to attend were barred, however, in retaliation for Hungary's recent actions toward American diplomatic officials.

WASHINGTON, March 16—The North Atlantic pact, most important international agreement since President Monroe set forth the Monroe doctrine, will be released to the public later this week. Meanwhile, it can be revealed that the pact embraces all of Europe and the United States, plus the Atlantic ocean north of the Tropic of Cancer.

In this huge area, no aggressor nation, in the present instance presumably Russia, can attack any ship, airplane, or territory of the North Atlantic allies without automatically incurring the joint opposition of all the other allies.

Furthermore, should Russia attack U. S. forces in the American zone of Berlin, the other signatory nations would be obligated to side with the United States. Actually, the American zone of Berlin is not mentioned in the treaty, but it is included in the geographical area.

Also included in the geographical area is most of Mexico and French North Africa.

The pact does not call for an automatic declaration of war. Furthermore, it preserves the structure of the United Nations and provides for consultation under it. Nevertheless, Article 5, the most important part of this historical treaty, states categorically:

"The parties agree that an armed attack upon any one of the signatories constitutes an armed attack upon all, whether the attack takes place in Europe or North America."

Article 7 also states: "If such an attack takes place, each will exercise the right of self-defense recognized by international law and each party to the agreement will act under Article 51 of the United Nations charter to report the attack to the security council and go to the defense of each other."

"An armed attack," it is also stated, "means any intrusion on the territory of any nation in Europe or in North America."

Summary of Pact

A brief summary of the historic treaty follows:

Art. 1—Lays down the principle of peaceful settlement of international differences.

Art. 2 — Specifies that the signers shall collaborate economically as well as politically and militarily.

Arts. 3 and 4 — Outline the elemental principles—after which the signers will mutually assist each other and consult with each other.

Art. 5—Quoted above, invites recognition of the fact that an attack directed against one among them is an attack directed against all, and asks them to take immediate action.

Art. 6—Sets forth the description of what constitutes an armed attack and gives the geographical limits in which the attack must take place — north of the tropic of cancer.

Art. 7—Defines the relation between the Atlantic pact and the United Nations, and recognizes the supreme authority of the security council for maintaining the peace of the world.

Art. 8—Declares that the pact recognizes the validity of existing international obligations to which the signers of the pact may already be obligated.

Art. 9—Describes plans to render the terms of the pact effective.

Art. 10 and 11 — Contain the usual final clauses relative to the admission of eventual other signers and the duration and ratification of the pact.

75 Cent Minimum Wage

Only insiders know how close the 75 cents-an-hour minimum wage bill came to being ambushed in the House labor committee. It was finally reported out only after Chairman John Lesinski of Michigan and fellow Democrat Graham Barden of North Carolina exchanged verbal hand grenades behind closed doors.

The two Democrats who rescued the minimum-wage bill were C. M. Bailey of West Virginia and Hugo Sims of South Carolina. Three other Democrats — John Wood of Georgia, Wingate Lucas of Texas, and Barden — voted with nine Republicans against the 75-cent minimum wage. After it was over, Barden voted with the 13 Democrats and one Republican, Brehm of Ohio, in a 15-6 ballot to report the bill. Wood and Lucas still voted no, along with four Republicans. Other Republicans voted "present."

Before the showdown, however,

Side Glances

By Galbraith

"Don't let your mother tell you how much money I used to spend on dates—she was always glad to be with me without going anywhere!"

Barden angrily charged Lesinski with "trying to buy Congressman Sims' vote."

"I don't know what you mean," shot back Lesinski. "We're not offering concessions to anyone to vote with us. Everyone on this committee is entitled to express and vote his views. I haven't attempted to influence the gentleman from South Carolina."

N. Carolina vs. S. Carolina

Sims, a former combat paratrooper, didn't seem to need a spokesman. Looking squarely at Barden of North Carolina, Sims of South Carolina snapped: "I have been for a strong minimum wage bill from the start. The records will show it. Even before we started hearings I predicted the bill would pass Congress."

"As a southerner, I would like to add that higher minimum wages for working people is one of the solutions to economic problems in the south."

Barden upbraided Lesinski for not inviting him to off-the-record caucuses on minimum wage strategy.

"I resent your dictatorial attitude—the way you're trying to put this legislation over behind our backs," Barden challenged. "As ranking majority member of this committee, I had a right to be called in and told what is going on."

"I phoned your office and your secretary told me you were out of town," explained Lesinski.

"Yes, I know," retorted the North Carolinian, "but you didn't tell my secretary about these caucuses you've been holding. You could have invited me through him if you really wanted to have me present."

Later, Barden, an able congressman, apologized for the outburst and joined with the committee majority in finally voting out the minimum wage bill.

Latin Reds Get Bolder

Communist activity in Latin America has entered a new and more aggressive phase, following statements by Red leaders in Europe and the U. S., pledging allegiance to Moscow in case of an East-West war.

Communist-front organizations, publications, etc. which formerly kept the party line half veiled behind a smokescreen of double-talk, are now boldly showing their true colors.

A typical example of the Latin comrades' changed approach is "La Tierra" (The Land), a small daily newspaper in Quito, Ecuador.

Although it carries the masthead slogan "Official organ of the Ecuadorian Socialist party," its editorial policies have long been dictated by the Communists.

Nevertheless, evidence of this was limited to an occasional made in Moscow slant or argument, smuggled in among much lofty old-time Socialist prose — until Thorez in France and Togliatti in Italy and their opposite numbers elsewhere verbally joined the Soviet army.

Then, suddenly, "La Tierra" shed its mask. Enlarging its format and doubling the number of pages, the paper also began talking the tough, hate-crammed dogma fed daily to readers of "Pravda" and the "Daily Worker."

Always critical of progressive, pro-U. S. president Galo Plaza, "La Tierra" now became violently abusive toward his policies and person. Yet the most characteristic gesture of all was a familiar red-line flipflop when "Time" magazine recently ran a story on Plaza's visit to Colombia.

Ultra-conservative Colombians, reported Time, were startled by the Ecuadorian chief executive's breezy informality. The piece quoted one Bogota newspaper as saying that he "looked like a baseball manager."

To this, "La Tierra" responded

Take Supplies to Filibuster Front

WASHINGTON, March 16—(AP)—Two southern ladies brought supplies to the filibuster front Tuesday night in the senate.

Sally Johnston, daughter of filibustering Senator Johnston (D-SC.), brought her daddy's comfortable shoes to him.

She sent a note to the senate cloak room to take the shoes to him "Right away to rest his feet." Mrs. Johnston, sitting in the gallery, sent "filibuster food," milk and fruit juice, to her husband as he talked on and on.

Accident Due Icy Pavement

An icy pavement was responsible for a slight accident at 8:30 Tuesday morning, when a 1948 Kaiser sedan driven by J. H. Raybourn, 1022 East Broadway, was in collision with the rear of a 1930 Ford coupe driven by D. F. Kilgill of 1900 East Sixth street at Tenth street and Montgomery avenue. Slight damage occurred to both cars.

with a white-hot denunciation, shrieking imprecations against the "insolent mouthpiece of Yankee imperialism" for its "shocking insults to our president."

"First time they ever had a kind word to say for me," observed Plaza mildly, then authorized his press department to translate and distribute the Time story to all local papers, so that people might judge the "insults" for themselves.

What is Going to Happen To Mr. Truman's Program?

By James Marlow
WASHINGTON, March 16—(P)—President Truman and his Democratic party are beginning to look like lost leaders. This happened in Congress in the past few days when Mr. Truman was vacationing in Florida: 1. His civil rights program for Negroes was almost hopelessly wrecked. 2. His nomination of his personal friend, Mon C. Wallgren, as chairman of the National Security Resources Board, was shoved aside. 3. His rent control program was shot full of holes.

It might have been the same if he were here, for in both House and Senate his lieutenants lost control.

Anybody's Guess
What will happen to the rest of the program Mr. Truman promised the voters last fall? It's anybody's guess. What's wrong? Nothing mysterious.

The members of the Democratic party have a majority in Congress. This would seem to give them control. It would, if they thought the same or stuck together. They don't.

Roughly, there are two kinds of Democrats: the Trumanites who follow the President; and the southern Democrats who go their own way and vote against the other Democrats any time they please.

When they do this, they team up with the Republicans who are in a minority. This combination gives the Republicans and southern Democrats a majority and puts the Trumanites in a minority. That's what has been happening.

Here are the figures: In the Senate—54 Democrats, 42 Republicans. Total Senators: 96. But at least 20 of the Democrats are southerners. When the 20 switch over to the Republicans, that leaves 34 Trumanites against 62 opponents.

In the House—263 Democrats, 171 Republicans, and one American Labor party member. At least 100 of the Democrats are southerners. When they join the Republicans, that's 271 against 163 Trumanites.

This is why the rejoicing of the Trumanites over last fall's Democratic victory was pretty hollow. It was a victory on paper—and only so long as the southerners play along with the Trumanites.

On the civil rights program, the southern Democrats parted company with the Trumanites and set out to wreck it with a filibuster.

Caught in this meat-chopper, the Trumanites in the Senate looked pitiful. That is not an exaggeration. Democrats outnumbered the Republicans.

Republicans 7 to 6 on the Senate committee which is considering the Wallgren nomination. The Senate must approve before he can have the NSRB job.

But the committee vote yesterday to push aside Wallgren's nomination was 7 to 6. What happened? Senator Byrd of Virginia, southern Democrat, threw his vote in with the six Republicans against Wallgren.

In the House the rent control bill favored by Mr. Truman was pulled out of shape like taffy, although the Democrats have a big majority in the House. The Senate may patch it up a bit. It can't become law without Senate approval.

What does it all mean? Only this: any time the Republicans and southern Democrats want to wreck the Truman program, they can do it by teaming up.

This makes the Democratic party, as a party, look sick. It sure does.

Social Events

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., and daughter, "Ginger," 419 Dal-Whi-Mo court, have returned from a trip of three weeks to the Canal Zone, where they visited Capt. and Mrs. W. W. Reid. Capt. Reid, who is a brother of Mrs. Stafford, is the captain of the port. The Staffords sailed to and from the Canal Zone on the S. S. Panama, by way of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. James Combs, of Florence, will celebrate their fifty-first wedding anniversary, Sunday, March 20th, at their home with open house to all their friends.

Church Societies

Members of the T.E.L. class of the East Sedalia Baptist church, will meet in a body to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Augusta Johanna Kurtz Maness, which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the East Sedalia Baptist church.

The T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church will have its regular monthly covered luncheon Thursday, March 17, at 12:30 o'clock at the church.

This luncheon will be in honor of those having birthdays in March. The dessert will be furnished.

'Pay-as-You-Can' Marriage Fees

INDIANA, Pa., March 16—(P)—Justice of the Peace Robert Smith, who thinks "every man ought to be married," furthers that belief by taking fees on the installment plan.

Since setting up in business at nearby Home Acres six years ago, the 54-year-old squire has performed marriages on the "pay as you can" basis for about 150 bridegrooms.

"I get a big kick out of it," Smith said yesterday. "I think every man ought to be married." Smith says there's nothing unusual about a penniless bridegroom—"not if you know miners." His territory covers a population of 15,000 in a dozen coal mining communities.

"It isn't that they don't have any money. It's just that they spend it before they get it. They set up housekeeping on credit and it's only natural to pay for the marriage the same way."

VA Insurance Information

W. F. Fidler of the local Veterans Administration office said today that many inquiries are being received from veterans regarding beneficiary designations on their National Service Life Insurance.

These inquiries are occasioned by the fact that the VA now is issuing policies on all converted types of insurance as well as renewed term insurance.

It was pointed out that these policies supposedly do not show to whom or in what manner the benefits will be paid in the event of the death of the insured. The reason for this, Fidler said, is that if this information were included in the policy now, it would not necessarily be accurate at a later date, since the insured can change either beneficiary or settlement option without sending in a policy to be corrected. If forms are desired for change in beneficiary or option they may be secured at the VA office, 511 South Ohio.

Oklahoma Senator And Lawyer Dies

WASHINGTON, March 16—(P)—Thomas Pryor Gore, 78, three-term senator from Oklahoma and successful lawyer though he had been blind since childhood, died at his home here today.

A Democrat, Gore was the first blind man ever to serve in the United States Senate. He was one of the first two senators sent to Washington from Oklahoma after the state entered the union in 1907.

He served two terms, ending in 1921, and came back for a third ending January 1, 1937.

The blind senator and his associates charged up his two election defeats to his refusal to compromise convictions.

Do You Know Your 'Left' From Your 'Right'

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign News Analyst

One of the most logical minds I know is possessed by my colleague, Howard Blakeslee, science editor for the A.P. He is so logical as to be almost terrifying to less tidy mentalities.

Every once in a while he breaks away from his atomic theories and takes a critical view of foreign affairs, applying the same cold reasoning he devotes to his science. Frequently I get the product of his analyses, generally in the form of a note or letter, delivered by messenger, although Blakeslee's quarters are only a few steps from my desk. The latest is the following:

"Dear Sir:
"May I suggest that your column take time out to state the right and left of things?"

"The Russians, for example, are farther to the light—politically and socially speaking—than any other great nation, and probably than any small country, even those with absolute potentates for governors."

Governed By Small Group

"Russia is governed by a small aristocracy, the Communists. By the largest estimates these Russian Communists are not more than four per cent of the Russian people."

"They form a tight aristocracy—tighter than the traditional aristocracies that were based on inheritance."

"Their government is despotic. It is as despotic as that of the traditional despots."

Possibly the extreme rightism of the Russians is not surprising. For generations they were governed despotically by czars. They haven't changed. They still have the same sort of extreme right government."

Far To The Left

"By comparison, the United States, Britain, France, any great nation you can name, are far to the left."

Does it give you a shock to be told that what you have been calling "left" is really "right?"

Their opposition, the so-called liberals, sat on the other side of the officer, and so were termed the "left."

On this basis we see, as Blakeslee indicates, that the further we go to the right, the closer we come to despotism. The further we swing to the left the nearer we approach "Democracy," which is rule by the majority. Bolshevism, which is the modern Russian version of Communism, is rule by a small minority, although the term

Carter Products, Inc., 53 Park Place, New York, N. Y.

DON'T BE HALF-SAFE. BE ARRID SAFE. USE ARRID - TO BE SURE!

"Bolshevism" actually means majority.

Thus we arrive at the conclusion that the greater the restrictions placed upon the individual by government, the further we swing to the right and the further away we get from democracy. The greater our democracy the more we swing to the left.

And the moral of all this? Well, I should say it is to exercise care in employing the terms "left" and "right." The safest way is to be specific and say "democracy" or "absolutism."

House Adopts an Amendment on Small Loans Bill

JEFFERSON CITY, March 16—
(AP)—The Missouri House of Representatives struck what may have been a mortal blow Monday to a bill calling for 27 per cent maximum interest on installment loans.

It adopted 77 to 56 an amendment which put the top annual interest on loans of $100 or less at 18 per cent—topping nine per cent off the maximum. The action came after two hours of hammer and tongs debate.

The split crossed party lines, a usual thing when the Missouri house takes up anything about interest rates.

In the process, members lambasted lobbyists of small loan companies which supported the 27 per cent bill.

After the vote was tallied, Rep.
W. D. Cruce of Cedar county, Republican floor leader, asked to put the measure back on the calendar for later debate.

"I don't know whether I want to do anything further with this bill after this amendment was adopted," he said.

After a short argument over the parliamentary correctness of Cruce's move, the house agreed to let him postpone further action.

By that time the fireworks were over.

What Is Proposed

The bill had barely been brought up by Cruce and his co-sponsor, Rep. Floyd L. Snyder (D) of Jackson county, when the majority floor leader, Rep. C. P. Tur-ley (D) of Carter county offered his amendment to lower the top
interest rates.

His change would put top interest like this:

From a maximum of 18 per cent on loans up to $100 the rate would scale down to 10 per cent on installment loans of $500.

He used a complicated formula for figuring the rate of interest for in-between amounts. To show how it would work he explained that for various amounts the rate would be:

For $150, about 14.4 per cent;
200, 13 per cent; $250, 12 per cent;
$300, 11.3 per cent; $350, 10.8 per cent; $400, 10.5 per cent; $450, 10.2 per cent.

In offering the amendment Tur-ley did not mention small loan companies directly. But he said:

"The people who borrow the money and pay the interest with their blood, their sweat and their tears are silent.

"They haven't a network that reaches to the four corners of the state in such a determined effort to play the role of being benevolent to the borrowers."

Supporters of the Snyder-Cruce bill have declared they want the measure to pass so the legitimate small loan companies could operate and help the small earner who has to borrow money once in a while.

They said it would drive out the loan sharks who charge more than 250 per cent a year.

nunciation:

"I have at least one thing to say for the loan sharks. They haven't approached anyone in this house to defeat this bill.

"They have at least been decent enough to stay off the picture."

On the sidelines, James A.
Davis grinned broadly at the announcement of the vote.

As state secretary of the Missouri CIO council, he told a house committee recently that if the Democrats passed the Cruce-Synder bill, there would be a bigger change in membership next time than there was in last fall's Democratic landslide.

At least three legislative representatives of the small loan companies were in the corridors today. They were not along the sidelines, however, when the bill was being debated.

Meeting For Farmers Friday

A meeting of importance to users of fertilizer as well as to others will be held in the assembly room of the court house Friday night, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

A plant food program will be discussed by representatives of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation. This meeting is being called by C. S. Arnold, president of the Pettis County Farm Bureau.

The program being inaugurated in Missouri is to cooperate in an enterprise to open, develop new phosphate beds and make available potash deposits to alleviate the shortage of available supplies of fertilizer so essential to the future welfare of the country.

Another purpose of the program is to make available fertilizers carrying at least twice the amount of plant food now being secured in much of the fertilizer now being put on the market. This is an enterprise that promises to increase wealth to Pettis County agriculture. Cheaper plant food means more will be used and greater returns per acre.

All interested farmers, business men and others are invited to attend this meeting.

First Honors To Oak Point

Dramatics Contest Brought Forth Some Excellent Acting

Oak Point community won top honors with the one act play, "Magnolia Blooms" which was under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Heffelfinger, it was announced after three judges voted it the best of seven community plays presented on the Smith-Cotton stage, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

"The Ravens Eggs", directed by Mrs. Mattie Myers from Green Ridge community was recognized as second, and Smithton community with "The Last Curtain" directed by Mrs. Paul Benson and Mrs. August Oehrke, third.

The plays and outstanding acting were based on 100 points divided up in percentages for poise, voice, timing, etc. Judges for the two play sessions both nights were: Miss Myrtle Beard, dramatics department at Central College, Fayette, and two students there under her direction who have appeared in leading plays throughout the country. They were: Miss Barbara House and Miss Marilyn Sherman.

Those who were recognized for superior and excellent acting during the two night showing of the very enlightening and entertaining plays were: Mrs. Ralph Mior, who appeared in the winning play as Magnolia, a colored maid; Pauline Gibson, who took the part of a 15 year-old cyclone of trouble, and Mrs. Norman Gibson, and Mrs. Otto Tegmeyer, all appearing in "Magnolia Blooms."

Glen Breckenridge and Mrs. Glen Breckenridge received superior ratings in acting their parts in "Cupid Advertisers." Robert Longan was recognized as superior in his acting the husband of the Quisenberry play, "His Wife's First Husband."

Once annually, many of the participants took part in the community program promoted by the county agents for their twenty-second time. Mrs. H. L. Hill, chairman of Dramatics Festival made a short talk at the conclusion of Tuesday night's plays, and introduced Miss Myrtle Beard, who in turn introduced the other judges.

Mrs. Hill said the program was very much a success and that she was looking forward to next year's plays, and invited more communities to take part in the fun festival.

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller

THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, in an attempt to solve the murders at the resort where they are vacationing, waylay Mr. Trim, suspecting him to be the killer. After Trim is knocked out, they find a badge in his wallet on which is inscribed "Federal Bureau of Investigation."

XXXIV

TRIM sat on the edge of the car seat and stared down at him. After a while of consideration, he went on. "I'll tell you what I can, but you two have to be frank right back at me. In answer to your question: only incidentally. There's some tie-up there with Sagmon Robottom and—"

"What's he done?" cried Sin.

"Nothing yet—that we can prove. He just keeps popping up in key positions. A professional organization one place—a crackpot discussion group somewhere else. The L. A. office—that's Robottom's home town—thinks there's something off-key about him."

"Off-key?"

"Subversive. Undercover."

"Gosh," said Sin, awed. "If I'd known that, I'd have really been scared this morning."

Trim pursed his lips irritably at the interruption. "Nothing had come of my work when I ran across this lost treasure business. Okay—that's not by jurisdiction—finders-keepers and so forth. The two murders aren't my jurisdiction, either. Just a minute!"

He held up a small hand to cut off the Conovers' questions. "I do come into it sideways. If Barselou finds the Queen, the money's his. But the government is interested if he's going to back Robottom in some subversive activity with that money."

John Henry began to pace back and forth, plucking thoughtfully at his lower lip. "Then Robottom could be Jones?"

"Oh, he could be," admitted Trim. "But the two dead bodies belong to Lieutenant Lay—not me."

I'm here to clinch a subversion case. All I know about your Jones or Joneses is that a Barselou employee—Anglin—sent a wire to them yesterday morning telling them to meet him at the Las Dunas Hotel. He started to slide under the steering wheel. "I'm sorry I won't be able to run you back, but from what you've told me, I better get a move on."

Sin looked at the agent quizzically. "What are you going to do now, Mr. Trim? Or is it a secret?"

"Well," Trim squinted at the moon-painted mesquite. "I'm going out and wait for Barselou at his ranch. Now that you've run this galleon rumor to earth for me, I might as well warn him about registry and tax and some other details. Then it'll be his move if he wants to play with Robottom."

"Mr. Trim," said Sin earnestly, "look—wouldn't you like to follow Barselou and Jones and Robottom or whoever it is to the Queen? That way you could—"

"What are you talking about, Sin?" John Henry interrupted. "I thought you—"

"It has its points," Trim mused. "I might find out pretty definitely about the subversion angle. It would certainly catch Robottom off base." He laughed harshly. "But, unfortunately, Mrs. Conover—I don't know the way. All I can do is wait at the ranch for one or both of them to come back."

"That's it exactly," said Sin, jumping up and down with excitement. "Sin, talk sense," John Henry insisted angrily.

"Johnny, don't you see? We know where to start—Walking Skull."

"What do you mean we know where to start? Where's Walking Skull?"

"Never mind," said Trim quietly. "I know where it is. Let her talk."

"And we've got a third copy of the combination—me." Sin pointed a proud forefinger at herself.

John Henry was disgusted. "Don't be silly. You've said it once. Now it's gone. Why should that list of numbers stick with you?"

"Because," Sin explained slowly and deliberately, "they don't make sense!"

"She hasn't had much to eat," her husband said to Trim.

"No, Johnny! Just to prove it. Here's the first two directions. B dash one. L dash three. Her words tumbled over one another getting out of her mouth. "I know I can remember it, Johnny. It just isn't a silly old quotation or anything—it doesn't have any order and I can remember it perfectly. I knew it when I recited it for you back at the ranch, but I didn't want to tell you then for fear it would spoil things or you'd want to go after the Queen by yourself later on. But now we've got help. And, Johnny, honest—I can't get the darn thing out of my head!"

"I'd be too dangerous for you, Sin. I don't want you—"

She put her arms around him. "I don't want to go to jail and I don't want you to, either. This way we won't have to, honey. Because Jones will be at the Queen."

John Henry felt the tempting excitement begin to bubble inside him again. "I wouldn't mind running into the guy responsible for all this, at that. I feel I owe him something."

Triumphantly, Sin turned to the wizened agent in the sedan. "There! Now how about it, Mr. Trim? What do you say?"

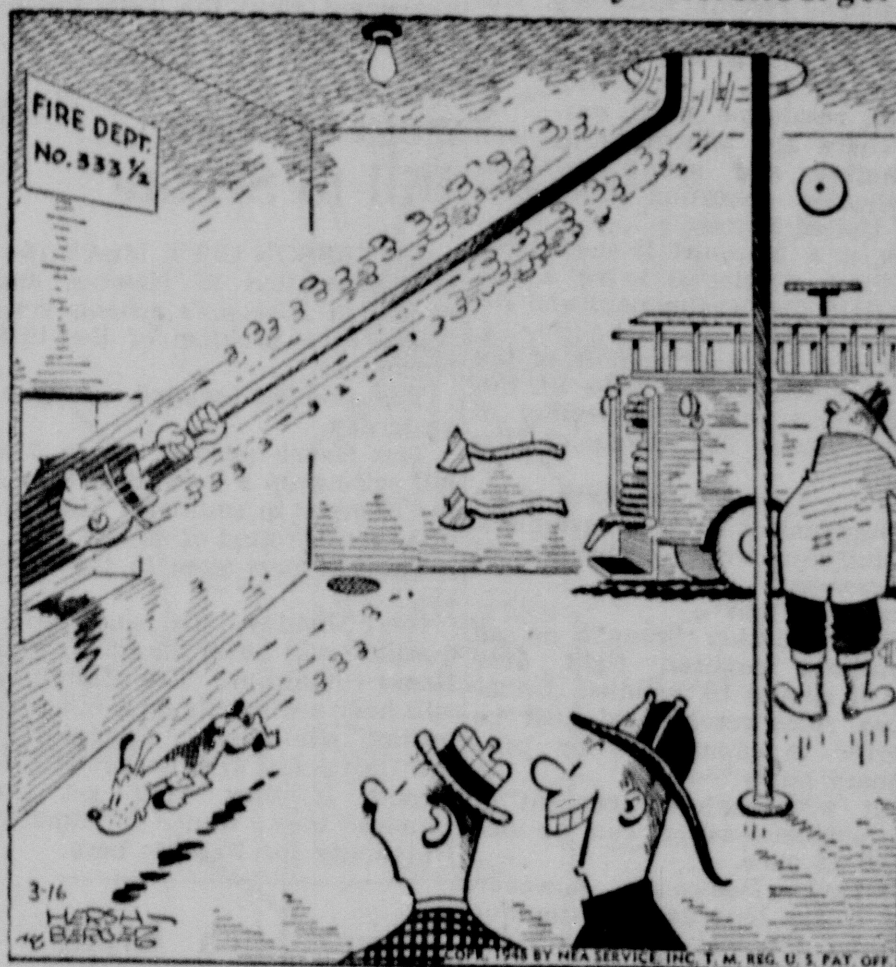

Trim didn't say anything for a moment. He opened the glove compartment and took out a heavy service automatic. Leaning back in the car, he checked the magazine under the flashlight. When he came into view again, he shoved the gun at John Henry, built forearm.

He said, "Stick close to your wife then, and come along. This may be the bag of the year or it may be a wild-goose chase. I guarantee it won't be any picnic."

Suggestion For Two Judges

JEFFERSON CITY, March 16.—(AP)—A Booneville lawyer suggested Tuesday the legislature should give the 14th judicial circuit of central Missouri two judges. He opposed a plan to make Cole county (Jefferson City) a separate circuit.

The lawyer was John H. Windsor who spoke before the Senate judiciary committee. He suggested that since the circuit has a lot of legal business, two judges should be assigned as in the Greene county circuit.

Before the committee is a bill to make Cole county a separate circuit and put the counties of Maries, Miller, Morgan, Moniteau and Cooper in a new 39th circuit. It was introduced by Sens. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley and Edward V. Long (D) of Bowling Green.

The change would throw Cooper county (Boonville), a Democratic county, in with a group of Republican counties.

Both supporters and opponents of the separate circuit bill agree that Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair has too much to do in view of all the state suits he must handle.

The committee deferred action on the bill.

It recommended a bill by Sen. Edgar J. Keating (D) of Kansas City continuing two commissioners for the Kansas City court of appeals. Their terms are renewed by law every four years.

Must Face Second Degree Murder Charge

PIKEVILLE, Mo., March 16.—(AP)—A charge of second degree murder has been filed by Prosecuting Attorney James Paul against Ted Hegwood, 40, Rogers, Ark., as the result of the fatal shooting early Monday of a 25-year-old farmer.

Hegwood was arraigned before Magistrate W. G. Tracy and then remanded to the county jail here. His preliminary hearing probably will be held Friday, Paul said.

John Lewis, who resided on a farm north of Bentonville, Ark., was shot and fatally wounded in a scuffle over a gun at a tavern on the Missouri-Arkansas state line, Paul said.

Coroner R. M. Humphrey announced that an inquest will be held, but that the date has not been set.

Rural And City Spokesmen Offer Changes

On Proposed Ten-Year Plan For Mo. Highways

JEFFERSON CITY, March 16.—A proposed ten-year highway program for Missouri is good, a House committee was told last night, but—

Rural and city spokesmen alike offered sweeping changes. Rep. Cecil Taylor (D) of Shelby county offered an amendment that would limit to four years the doubling of the state's present two cents a gallon gasoline tax. He said his constituents want a constitutional amendment to increase the tax and assure rural roads. A. C. Kretzger of St. Louis, representing an association of trucking firms there, suggested a change so his people wouldn't have to pay the increase. They operate only on city streets and do not use the state's highways, he explained.

Not Quite Unanimous

J. H. Middleton of the Pike County Farm Bureau said "We're not quite unanimous on the best method of obtaining good roads." His group found two objections to the program proposal. It would give more power to a few people, the four-man highway commission, and the legislature would have no further control after the bill is passed.

Hugh Stephens, Jefferson City banker and former highway commissioner, called the program a good solution, agreed upon by many factions, to a problem which has plagued Missouri for years. Taylor said the attorney general ruled recently that a commission cannot be bound beyond the terms of the present commission. Although present highway commissioners have agreed to allot 60 per cent of the increase toward rural roads and 40 per cent toward city trafficways, he said, there was no assurance future commissions would abide by this commission's agreement.

Overall Program

He said he was sure the legislature could re-enact the increase after four years.

The bill is designed to put into operation the recommendations of a special advisory committee on roads—to get rural Missouri out of the mud and still keep up the state's highway system. The goal is to put all Missourians within two miles of an all-weather road. The committee decided not to act on the measure last night. A further hearing is scheduled for next Tuesday.

The committee is headed by Rep. Milton Duvall (D) of Pike county, a member of the special road committee appointed by Gov. Forrest Smith and a long-standing supporter of increasing the Missouri gasoline tax.

The present two cent tax is the lowest in the country.

Oil Strike Ends

EL DORADO, Ark., March 16.—A 13-day oil stoppage of production at Lion Oil company's chemical plant ended today.

About 420 CIO union workers were back on their jobs this morning after an agreement was reached with the company over wages. Production was resumed at the plant.

Morris Akin, spokesman of the CIO oil workers union, said the company's offer of 15 cents an hour wage increase retroactive to last Nov. 1 has been accepted by the workers.

Resolution on Gambling To Committee

House Democrats Turn Aside Charges By Rep. Webster

JEFFERSON CITY, March 16.—House Democrats turned aside today charges that gambling has moved from big cities to Missouri's main streets.

Rep. Richard M. Webster (R) of Jasper county tried to push through a resolution telling Democratic Gov. Forrest Smith to use all his power to enforce anti-gambling laws.

But the House voted 58 to 75 against taking his resolution up immediately.

Webster charged that even in his southeastern Missouri town of Carthage, peace officers have found evidence of gambling syndicates at work.

But Rep. C. P. Turley (D) of Carter county answered that the resolution would embarrass the governor. He said it should not be taken up at once but should be referred to the proper committee for further study.

Resolution Referred
After the vote Speaker Roy Hamlin (D) of Marion county said the resolution would be referred.

Webster asked that the House adopt his resolution immediately. It said:

"This house oppose any toleration, by the state's law enforcement officers, of future violations of existing laws restricting and prohibiting gambling and further that this house request his excellency, the Governor of Missouri, to use all the power at his command to enforce the existing laws of the state."

He asked immediate consideration of the resolution and said it was not a political move against Smith's Democratic administration.

"This is an honest and sincere effort after an outbreak of lawlessness in my home community," he said.

Constant Rumors
"There have been constant and consistent rumors since last August that the state would be wide open" if Smith was elected governor, he said.

His resolution went on: "There are known to be well organized and active gambling syndicates operating throughout the United States."

"x x x Missouri is considered by these syndicates to be a fertile field for development and future operation."

"x x x Constant rumors of lax enforcement of the laws of this state have created a feeling of unrest among the citizens of Missouri."

"x x x These rumors have given encouragement to local gamblers, causing numerous outbreaks of lawlessness."

Partisan Fight
The resolution brought on an immediate partisan fight over how it should be handled. Under House rules resolutions must be referred to committee for preliminary study.

But with majority consent of the members action can be obtained at once.

Majority Democrats, however, said it has long been a standing rule for the legislature to make the laws and let the proper authorities enforce them. They said the resolution should go to committee.

Democrats have a 95 to 50 majority in the House.

Before the vote Rep. Howard Elliott (R) of St. Louis county went to bat for Webster's resolution.

He charged there is a well-organized, well-heeled criminal group in the United States preying on the public with slot machines, horse racing and other forms of gambling. These criminals are trying to get into Missouri, he added, to corrupt the private and public life of the state.

Furnished Bond on Marijuana Charge
KANSAS CITY, March 16.—(AP)—John Dillinger, 30, who identified himself as a student at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers college, Maryville, Mo., was free today on a $500 bond on a charge of possession of marijuana.

He waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Charles Thompson late yesterday and his trial was set for March 25 in U. S. district court.

Dillinger was arrested by police last Sunday. Two patrolmen said they saw him throw away a pipe, a tobacco can and an inhaler.

Meeting Postponed
The Congregational Presbyterian church has been postponed due to the death of Mrs. C. H. Bard, who was a member.

Formal Charge In Polk Death

ATHENS, March 16.—(AP)—The police formally accused a Greek Communist journalist and his mother yesterday of complicity in the murder of George Polk, Columbia broadcasting system correspondent.

The charges against Gregory Staktapoulis and his mother, Anna, were read to them in their police cells in Salonika. An informed source said they are booked for trial starting April 11.

Polk was bound hand and foot, then shot through the head, and his body thrown into Salonika bay last May. He apparently was lured to his death with promises of an interview with the former Greek Communist leader, Markos Vafiades.

Public Prosecutor Christis Moustakis in a report to the court preliminary to trial of the accused said "there is no slightest doubt Polk was assassinated by Communists." The police seek another Communist, Adam Mouzenides, whom they have named as the actual slayer.

Other survivors are three sisters: Mrs. Laura Uptegrove of Elin, Mrs. R. J. Berry of Grinell, Ia., and Mrs. J. L. Metts of Madison, Ia.; and one brother, I. S. Nall of Maring, Ia. Four grandchildren also survive.

She was a member of the Green Ridge Baptist church.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Barnett Union church by the Rev. J. L. Freeman of Versailles.

Palbearers were Ab Cochran, Ray Taylor, William Flottman, Ira Bixler, Bill Kimberly, and C. Barnett, with Mrs. Marion Gunn at the piano. Services were in charge of the Kays funeral home of Eldon.

Interment was in Hopewell cemetery.

Mrs. E. Mitchell Ross
Mrs. Pauline C. Ross of St. Louis, widow of the late E. Mitchell Ross, died at the Jewish hospital in St. Louis Tuesday afternoon about 2:15 o'clock after a short illness. She suffered a paralytic stroke Thursday evening, March 3.

Mrs. Ross was born February 7, 1866, the daughter of the late Thomas C. and Lucy M. Cranmer of Ottumwa. She was married to Mr. Ross on March 8, 1905 and resided near Ottumwa until August, 1924, when they moved to Warrensburg to educate their adopted daughter, Miss Dorothy Ross, whom they took into their home at the age of two years.

Mrs. Ross and her daughter moved to St. Louis in 1946 when the daughter, who is now physical education teacher at Lindenwood college at St. Charles, was teacher in St. Louis.

Surviving besides the daughter are a brother, T. R. Cranmer of Ottumwa and one nephew, Owen L. Cranmer of Kansas City.

Mrs. Ross was preceded in death by her husband on August 26, 1933.

Funeral services will be held from the Sweeney-Phillips funeral home at Warrensburg, Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with the Rev. H. A. Wood, Methodist minister of Ottumwa, to officiate.

Music will be under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Stephenson of Warrensburg.

Palbearers will be A. C. Bass, Dr. W. R. Patterson, Dr. A. L. Stephenson, all of Warrensburg, and F. L. Cole, John Schib and W. S. Gentry, all of Ottumwa.

Palbearers will be Oscar Lademann.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Hattie May Callison
Mrs. Hattie May Callison of Barnett died at St. Mary's hospital in Jefferson City, Friday, March 11.

Mrs. Hattie May Callison, daughter of the late John F. and Mary E. Nall, was born near Olean, Mo., on October 4, 1893.

Illness Delays Court Hearing Strange Story

BOSTON, March 16.—(AP)—Illness today prevented Mrs. Anna Sullivan, 45, from telling a court the strange story of the son she kept for most of his 13-year life-time as her "secret sin" prisoner.

The neglect charge against the mother was continued to Monday.

Her counsel, Attorney Daniel O'Connell, made the announcement after a private conference with Roxbury District Judge Frankland W. L. Miles.

This came as spectators were crowding an upstairs courtroom expecting to hear the mother's story.

When Mrs. Sullivan does appear for hearing, she may be spared a courtroom meeting with the boy.

Court officials said Massachusetts law did not require his appearance. They explained that the mother had already pleaded guilty to the charge in her court appearance Monday.

Opinions Divided
In the courtroom today, women who said they were waiting to hear the Sullivan case expressed divided opinions concerning the mother's course.

Several said they believed she should be punished. Others said: "She has suffered enough."

The distraught mother has tearfully pleaded for return of the "love child," she is accused of keeping captive a dozen years in a dungeon-like room.

"As God is my judge, I love my boy," she cried. "I don't want to give him up."

Call Strike A Violation
PITTSBURGH, March 16.—(AP)—A hard coal operators' official today called John L. Lewis' current mine shutdown a contract violation.

Chairman Ralph E. Taggart of the anthracite operators' conference said miners were "breaking their contract" by obeying the UMW president's call for a two-week memorial and protest stoppage.

Lewis replied that the statement was "untrue."

Earlier, the directors of the Anthracite Operators association at Wilkes-Barre sent Lewis a telegram saying the work stoppage was seriously affecting the health and welfare of the entire anthracite region of eastern Pennsylvania.

Left Handed Check Books
FRAMINGHAM, Mass., March 16.—(AP)—The Framingham National bank is making it easier for their left-handed depositors to spend money.

An official of the bank said left-handed check books are now available to its southpaw customers.

The book opens just the reverse of the standard types.

mann, Herman Lademann, Lawrence Lademann, Martin Schnackenberg, Leonard Wachsmeyer, and Ernest Monsees.

Seaman 1/c Lademann was born in California, Mo., was baptized July 25, 1915 by the Rev. F. M. Mueller. He attended the Christian Day school and was confirmed March 24, 1929 by the Rev. T. A. Weinhold. He was married to Miss Auguste Schnackenberg of Iowa July 25, 1943 by the Rev. Theo. Maschoff.

November 26, 1943, he was inducted into active military service having chosen the Navy in which to serve his country. He received his foot training at Camp Ward, Farragut, Idaho. He came home on leave January 26, 1944 and remained until February 4, 1944. He then entered gunners school at Camp Peterson. Graduating from this school, he again returned home on leave May 19, 1944 remaining until May 21, 1944 when he reported to Shoemaker, Cal., leaving Shoemaker June 17, 1944 and arrived on Treasure Island June 20 for overseas duty. He was killed in action in the Pacific May 9, 1945 and was buried at the Armed forces cemetery, Zamami Shima, Ryukyu Islands.

He is survived by his wife, his parents, three brothers and one sister. One brother Adolph preceded him in death.

Miss Jallie Ball
Miss Jallie Ball died at her home in Kansas City, 513 Prospect boulevard, early today. She was born in Versailles March 27, 1891. She lived there until 25 years ago when she went to Kansas City, where she was employed by the Commerce Trust company, until two weeks ago. Although she had been ill for several years her death was unexpected.

She was a member of the Linwood Methodist church. Miss Ball was preceded in death by her parents, James Waldo and Margaret Hughes Ball and two brothers, Nelson and Austin Ball.

One brother, Lester L. Ball, 629 East Tenth street, Sedalia, survives.

Arrangements for the funeral services have not been completed.

Funeral of Herman Boatcher
Funeral services for Herman Boatcher, aged 79 years, who died Saturday afternoon at his home at Stover were held Monday afternoon with the Rev. H. A. Kohn officiating.

Palbearers were: August Hartman, August Oehrke, Otto Boatcher, Fred Bretall, Alfred Grupe, and Clarence Ehlers.

Interment was in the city cemetery.

Funeral of Miss Pieper
Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the American Lutheran church of Stover for Miss Tillie Pieper, 78 years of age, who died at her home Monday afternoon.

The Rev. H. A. Kohn conducted the services.

Form Athletic Association

Sports Fans Attend Meeting at the Court House

Sports-minded Sedalians have organized themselves as an association for recreation, education, and fraternal purposes under the name of Sedalia Athletic Association, Incorporated.

An application was filed in circuit court Tuesday for a pro forma decree of incorporation. It is signed by its officers, Jack Cunningham, president, Ivan Berry, vice-president, Paul Maxwell, secretary, and William Bunn, treasurer.

Since the idea was brought up over a week ago, sportsmen gathered in the Chamber of Commerce and court house, and decided upon the name of the association and plans as to sports activities. The newly elected officers drafted the by-laws.

On Tuesday night interested persons attended the kick-off

Strange Deal In The Sale of Murry Dickson

First Chance in 22 Years For Pirates To Win a Pennant

By Gayle Talbot
SAN BERNARDINO, March 16.—(AP)—The strangest deal of the winter may give the Pittsburgh Pirates their first National League flag in 22 years.

The deal, a straight cash transaction now believed to have involved at least $125,000, brought Murry Dickson, a trim little right handed pitcher, to the Pirates from the St. Louis Cardinals. The sale was strange because it was made without the knowledge or consent of Eddie Dyer, Cardinal manager, for whom Dickson worked a whopping 252 innings in 42 games last season. It also was strange because it is almost certain another National League club, the New York Giants, offered more for Dickson than Pittsburgh paid.

Dickson is happy. At any rate, Dickson is a Pirate now, and he is happy and so is his new manager, Billy Meyer. He will be strictly a starter for Meyer, instead of a workhorse, and the rounds out what could be the best balanced staff in the senior league.

Last year Meyer coaxed the Pirates from seventh up into fourth place at the finish of a hot race and was voted "manager of the year." With stronger pitching and catching and better outfield reserve strength, there is no real telling what Pittsburgh's wonder man might do.

As regular starters, with Dickson, he can call upon Bob Chesnes, Vic Lombardi and Elmer Riddle. Bill Werle, a left handed sinker ball thrower is regarded as a young man who "can't miss."

Add to this array veteran Rip Sewell, who had a 13-3 record as a "spot" pitcher last year; Ernie Bonham, Elmer Singleton, Hal Gregg and Cliff Chambers.

Two Kinds of Relief. Meyer, a specialist, also has two kinds of relief pitching. Kirby Higbe and his knuckleball will be employed when the Pirate starter falters early in the game. Hugh Casey, long time fireman for the Brooklyn Dodgers was grabbed by Meyer in the belief he still can go in there and hit 'em down for a final inning or two.

Clyde McCullough, obtained in a winter deal which sent third baseman Frankie Gustine to the Chicago Cubs, bolsters the catching. He and Ed Fitzgerald leave Meyer no worries in that department.

Addition of Walter Judnich from Cleveland lends depth to a capable corps of fly chasers which includes Ralph Kiner, bopper of 31 and 40 homers, respectively, the past two seasons; Dixie Walker, Waldon Westlake and Johnny Hopp.

Stan Rokaj and Danny Murtaugh, each a 250 clubber last year, are fixtures at short and second. With Gustine gone, Meyer is caught somewhat short at third base. He hopes that Joe Bockman can handle the job, but will not be surprised if Pete Castiglione, who hit 308 for Indianapolis, winds up at the far corner. That is the club's sore spot right now.

Les Fleming, the former Cleveland Indian, has come back from the minors again to battle Ed Stevens for the first base post.

The "Heat" to Two Boxers
NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—The "heat" was being applied to a couple of world boxing champions today but in different fashions.

Lightweight king Ike Williams was taking regular heat treatments to help a strained muscle in his right shoulder. The injury was suffered yesterday and forced a postponement of Williams' fight with Kid Gavilan from this Friday to April 1.

Welterweight titleholder Ray (Sugar) Robinson had the "heat" put on him by NBA commissioner Abe J. Greene.

Greene warned Sugar Ray to defend his 147-lb. crown quickly or give it up.

Robinson risked his crown last against Bernie Docusen of New Orleans in Chicago, June 28.

NBA and New York state rules require champions to put their titles on the line every 6 months. Robinson received an extra period of grace because of an injury suffered last December while training for a non-title scrap with middleweight Steve Belloise. That bout was postponed indefinitely.

No Upsets in National AAU Tourney Yet

Central of Fayette Loses 47 to 56 to L. A. Cliftons

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 16.—(AP)—The 42nd annual National A. A. U. Basketball tournament, without the semblance of an upset in three days' play, moved into the third round today with all eight seeded teams seeking quarter-final berths.

And after all the top ranked teams had shown their wares, few observers doubted the defending champion Phillips Oilers and the Oakland Bitters were headed for another showdown in their three-year rivalry.

Oilers vs. Salt Lake. Both teams play their second games at a night session of today's schedule. The Oilers oppose Salt Lake City's Brooklowns and the Bitters take on the Arlington, Tex., Motors.

The Brooklowns yesterday beat St. Adalberts, Elizabeth, N. J., 70-49, and Arlington whipped Milwaukee's Boston Stars, 71-42. The last two seeded quintets to see their first tourney action—Oklahoma City University and Winston-Salem's Hanes Hosiers—moved into the 16-team bracket last night.

Oklahoma City's Chiefs, a ball-control club, put a slow brake on the fast-breaking Billings, Mont., Stockman, 40-35. The Winston-Salem five shook off an undersized Luther College team from Decorah, Iowa, in the last ten minutes for a 73-64 decision.

The Largest Score. East Central Oklahoma State ran up the 1949 tournament's highest score in an 84-53 romp over the Freeport, Ill., Legion. The Dayton, O., Zimmermans held Albuquerque Malool to one field goal in 15 minutes of the second half in registering a 76-27 triumph.

Los Angeles' Cliftons also showed a tight second half defense, limiting Central College of Fayette, Mo., to one goal in 13 minutes and rallying to a 56-47 victory. Little Rock Morgans turned back the Dayton Cash Registers, 65-47.

Today's Games. 11 a. m. — Peoria Caterpillars vs. Little Rock Morgans. 12:30 p. m. — Oklahoma City University vs. Dayton Zimmermans.

2:00 p. m. — Winston-Salem, N. C. Hanes vs. Los Angeles Cliftons. 3:30 p. m. — Seattle Alpines vs. Shreveport Graysons.

6:00 p. m. — Los Angeles Police vs. Lincoln, Neb., Nut House. 7:30 p. m. — Oakland Bitters vs. Arlington, Tex., Motors.

9:00 p. m. — Phillips Oilers vs. Salt Lake City Brooklowns. 10:30 p. m. — Denver Chevrons vs. East Central Okla. State.

Sport Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—A few hours before Kentucky's basketballers were bounced out of the invitation basketball tournament by Loyola, Coach Adolph Rupp told a Louisville writer: "If we lose today, we'll fight right home so the boys won't miss so many classes."

... Maybe Adolph was being prophetic, but he knew what he was talking about. . . . Then there was Utah's Vadal Peterson moaning about being seeded third in the tourney because "I'd rather be down in the old number eight spot." And Harold (Andy) Anderson of Bowling Green adding: "It's better to be No. 12."

Only pre-game moaning that apparently wasn't justified came from San Francisco's Pete Newell, who complained at lunch: "I haven't been worrying as much as I normally do, but I've just been watching Vadal eat, and the more he eats, the more sick I get."

San Francisco has played Utah three times now and has a total margin of four points.

Backhand Compliment. One of Don Hutson's Green Bay pals report that the former Packers star took up skiing last winter and used to work out a couple of times a week. . . . "Unfortunately we had a short season and he'll have to wait until next winter," the gent writes. "Don was coming pretty good when the snow fell—but, of course, conditions may be a little different once he moves out of his living room."

One-Minute Sports Page. Spec Shea claims to be the fastest runner on the Yankees squad and offers to back his claim with cash. . . . one of the Kentucky Derby nominees is Farmoor, which Andrew Cushman of Charlottesville, Va., bought in Ireland last summer. . . . You can't say he has Farmoor chance than any of the 112 other horses named. . . . John Lawther, who recently resigned as Penn State basketball coach to teach physical education, did the same thing before. He quit at Westminster in his tenth year of coaching, but took the Penn State job less than a year later.

Harvesters Win Over Cole Camp

The Sedalia Harvesters defeated the Cole Camp Independents on Tuesday night for their thirteenth win against three losses, by the score of 46-44. The game was played at the Cole Camp high school gymnasium, starting at 8 o'clock.

Dale Whitfield was the main spark of the Harvesters. He sewed up what appeared to be a tie game by making a basket in the last twenty seconds of the game. He also led the list of individual scores with 20.

Thursday night the Sedalians will play the LaMonte Independents at 6:30 in the start of the Houstonia tournament. The Harvesters have beaten every team in the bracket they are in. This includes LaMonte Independents, Houstonia and the LaMonte Merchants.

Al Kaval to Coach at Drake. PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—(AP)—Albert P. (Al) Kaval, head football coach at Drake university the past two seasons and one of Northwestern university's greats, is the new head gridiron mentor at Temple university.

Signing of Kaval to a three-year contract as the successor to Ray Morrison was announced yesterday by Dr. Earl Yeomans, Temple's director of athletics. Salary terms were not revealed.

PUBLIC FARM SALE

On account of failing health, I have decided to sell my well-improved 240-acre farm known as the Claude Ficken Farm, located on South 65 highway, six miles south of Sedalia, Missouri, together with all of my livestock and implements and personal property, owned by me, as listed below. The farm has been listed with Frank Monroe, real estate broker, and shown by him before day of sale. If not sold by day of sale, this farm will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder on Wednesday, March 23rd—10 a. m. Sharp

240-ACRE FARM AT AUCTION

This is one of the best farms in this section. It consists of 240 acres of good sandy loam, every acre of which can be cultivated. Can be plowed, and the soil is not washed. Eighty acres are in blue grass, sixty acres in growing wheat, which looks fine. Entire crop goes with farm. Improvements consist of 5-room modern dwelling, built-in bath and utility room, hardwood floors. One practically new two-room tenant house, garage and other outbuildings. Electrically in all buildings on farm. Water supply is from deep drilled well and large government pond, 11-foot deep. 100 acres of this farm are terraced and farm is well fenced.

A word to buyers: 10% down on the purchase price of farm the day of sale, and balance of money on delivery of warranty deed and possession of farm, which will be made as soon as buyer can complete deal.

Remember, sale starts promptly at 10 A. M. on Wednesday, March 23rd. Livestock and Personal Property To Be Sold At Auction:

Passing of The DC-3 Mourned Like Model T

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—(A)—The famous old DC-3, "workhorse of the air lanes," is on the skids, and all over the civilized world airmen are bemoaning its passing as men haven't wept about a vehicle since Ford stopped making the Model T. The good old "Dizzy Three" is being tossed into the ash can this spring by American Airlines, biggest of domestic carriers. Other major lines will soon replace their DC-3s too, mostly with 40-passenger, 340-mile-an-hour Conquairs and Martin 202s.

But canny planemaker Donald Douglas says it's too soon to cry. The "Old Doug" hasn't stopped flying yet, and he's all ready to revamp it to keep it in the air for a long time to come.

More DC-3s have been built

BUT DON'T CRY too soon! "Old Doug" will keep on flying with new wings and tail shown on this model. Dotted lines trace its familiar old shape.

than any other single plane—more probably, in fact, than all other passenger-type planes put together. More millions of men and women have flown in DC-3s than in any other plane—perhaps more than in all other planes combined. It was "Old Doug," designed to fly peaceful passengers around the United States, that fed, fueled and provided ammunition for the American forces across the Rhine for weeks until bridges could be built.

Some of the stories told about the DC-3 would be unbelievable if they were not confirmed. Its civilian version is a 21-passenger plane, which pilots took up with 2300 pounds of payload. Yet in a Colonel Haynes flew 75 persons out of Burma in a pinch. Capt. Harold Sweet flew 61 from Chungking to India after coolies had patched more than 1000 Jap bullet-holes in canvas cut from a missionary's awning. Tropical rains loosened the patches, and they blew off—but the plane made India, whistling so loud that an army major on the ground said, "We could hear you coming 50 miles away."

American Airlines is discarding 58. United and TWA each have 79. Eastern has 51. Mid Continent 18. Braniff 17, other lines smaller numbers. The Air Force has 500. The Navy another 300. Most of these probably will give way to progress—but not all.

One who is keeping them is Eddie Rickenbacker, famous auto racer, World War I ace, and the hardest-boiled operator in the air transport field, where his Eastern Airlines has been the one big money-maker in a red-ink business.

Says Douglas: It would cost me $11,000,000 to develop a new short-haul plane. I couldn't possibly get that back before jets come in. Let the other boys take the business for a few years, if they can. I'll keep that $11,000,000 and use it when I can open up a permanent market in passenger jets.

Says Rickenbacker: New planes would cost me around $500,000 each. Long before they were paid for, passenger jets will be along. I'll keep those millions, and have jets on Eastern while the other boys still are paying for these interim jobs.

The ace up Douglas' sleeve is his remodeling idea. He figures that a lot of concerns that can't afford $500,000 a plane for replacement—and a lot of the 3000 DC-3 owners abroad who can't get American dollars—can spend up to $200,000 for a machine almost as good as the Martin or the Conquair.

So he has offered to revamp any DC-3 for around $200,000. He will increase the passenger space from 21 to as many as 28, step up the speed from 180 to 234 miles an hour, install swept-back wings and new tail assembly, put loading stairs on the door and generally

More like a creature of a forgotten world than a naval airman, Harold Cheshire, of the British aircraft carrier Vengeance, inflates the new "Mae West" flying suit in Edinburgh, Scotland. The suit protected him during the Royal Navy's six-week maneuvers in the Arctic.

'Canned Foods' Is Club Study

The Oak Grove Extension club met at the club house Thursday. The project for the day was "Ways of Serving Canned Foods." At the noon hour, canned pork casserole, canned beef casserole, Oak hill potatoes, pear and vegetable salad, hot rolls and fruit short cake were served, with Mrs. Charles Mawhorter explaining the recipes for each dish as it was served.

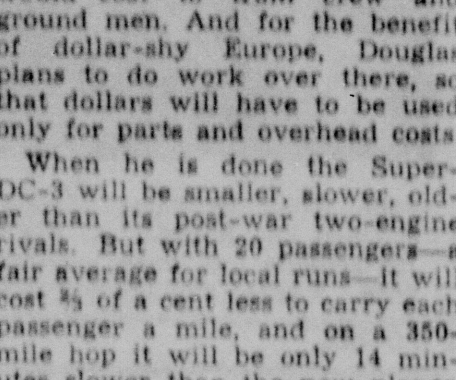

Mrs. Mawhorter and Mrs. A. A. Romig attended the leaders training meeting for "Ways of Serving Canned Foods." Mrs. Romig was unable to attend the Oak Grove meeting due to illness in her family.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Myrtle Mewes. The devotion was taken from the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians and was given by Mrs. Ernest Slobohm. Mrs. Elmer Maune read the health letter. The club voted to send a donation to the Red Cross. Mrs. Elsie Moon was reported as improving.

Mrs. Charles Mawhorter and Mrs. Clifford Mawhorter will be hostesses at the April meeting.

Talk Before Optimists on 'Prisoners'

Alvin Saucier an Official at State Prison Speaks

The Sedalia Optimist Club held its noon luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Bothwell Hotel, with Alvin Saucier, director of classification at the Missouri State penitentiary as guest speaker.

The speaker traced correctional punishment from the days when any crime was looked upon as direct offense against the gods, through various reform periods up until the present time.

Moving on to his chief subject, "Classification of Prisoners", he enumerated various steps that incoming offenders go through.

"The first step," Saucier said, "is 'dressing in'—recording sentence and pertinent information, photos, fingerprints, medical examination, etc."

"Next comes the 30 day isolation period. In this time any communicable disease should show up, and the period of isolation allows sufficient time for case history, correspondence with family, former employer, FBI and other government agencies."

"The third step, then, is classification. The offender is brought

Jato Spurs Jet Bomber Take-Off

Spurred by a Jato unit under each wing, an Air Force B-45 four-jet bomber makes a spectacular take-off in tests at Muroc Air Force Base in California. The Jato units add 8000 pounds of thrust to the 20,000 pounds provided by the four jet engines. The plane is in the 550 mph class.

before the classification committee for an individual interview. The committee reviews events leading to the offense and gives various intelligence and aptitude tests.

At the end of the interview, the committee makes a decision as to the prisoner's work assignment and sets a date for reclassification and modification of the individual's program or transfer to "trustee" status.

Saucier spoke very favorably of the trend to "indeterminate sentences" and expressed the hope that legislation along this line now pending in the Missouri legislature will meet with success.

Stresses Youth Education

The speaker believes that the answer to crime will not be found in our prison system, or any existing prison system for that matter. He commented favorably on the work of the Optimist Club and similar organizations in forestalling delinquency, and believes that the place to stop crime is through youth education.

John Van Dyne announced that a communication from the New York City Boys Club, the largest in the world, requesting information on the Sedalia Optimist Club's "Boy Bond" sale has been received.

An announcement calling attention to the current celebration of the 37th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scout movement was made, also pointing out that the Sedalia Girl Scout organization has grown from one troop with eight members to a total of fifty-six troops with six hundred and twenty-five members.

Dr. H. O. Wilbur, club president, presided and G. P. Darnell, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Darnell later announced that next week's speaker will be Mr. Gowan, head of the education department at Missouri State penitentiary. This marks the third in a series of addresses designed to give Optimist members a broad view of the workings of Missouri's correctional institutions.

John C. McCloskey, Sedalia attorney, was introduced as a new member.

Judge W. L. Marlin of the eastern district of the county court attended as guest of Lee Brandt.

The nominating committee presented its official ticket for the new fiscal year. Nominees are: President, Frank V. Mehl; 1st Vice-President, G. P. Darnell; 2nd Vice-President, Lee Brandt; Directors, Frank Coffman, Jr., Maurice Hogan, Lloyd Knox, John Van Dyne.

Vote For Negro Vocation School

JEFFERSON CITY, March 16—(AP)—The House passed Tuesday a bill to set up a vocational school for Negroes in southeastern Missouri.

The vote was 116 to 7, with 15 voting present.

The measure now goes to the senate for action.

Consideration of the bill set off a new debate on racial segregation.

Rep. Howard Elliott (R) of St. Louis county said the bill would do more harm than good because the legislature would "extend the prejudice of yesterday against citizens of today."

Elliott was a member of a house committee last session which reported on civil rights in the state and recommended segregation be abolished at the state university and elsewhere.

"The time has come when we have to grow and extend to all our citizens things we pay lip service to in our constitution," Elliott said.

Rep. T. A. Penman (D) of New Madrid county argued the Negroes in southeastern Missouri want the school.

Supporting Penman were Reps. John T. Buckley (D) of Pemiscot county, Clarence E. Felker (D) of Scott county and Elvis A. Mooney (D) of Stoddard county.

Buckley said the Negro population in southeastern Missouri favors the bill and wants the school.

Rep. James McKinley-Neal (D) of Jackson county, a Negro, urged the legislature to follow the national platform of the Democratic and Republican parties on the civil rights issue.

The time has come when we should have only one type of citizenship instead of two, he said.

He said it is "impractical, not fair and not just" to set up a different school every time someone from the Negro race wants to be taught something not now offered in Negro schools.

"But since we can't get anything better I am forced to vote for the bill," he said.

Rep. Walter V. Lay (D) of St. Louis also a Negro, asked the legislature not to let the Negroes in southeastern Missouri suffer from lack of a vocational school.
